Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in senior positions within Software Development, Full Stack Development, Application Analysis, and Software Architecture.

Throughout my career, I have accumulated over 26 years of experience in the design, analysis, and development of desktop and web software solutions, primarily operating within highly complex enterprise environments and management software systems. In my current role as a Senior Software Developer & Analyst, I combine technical development with the coordination of development teams and the management of second-level technical support.

My core competencies include:

- Backend: .NET / .NET Core (C#, VB.NET, ASP.NET), VB6, Node.js, Python, PHP.
- Frontend: JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML5, CSS3, Angular, React.
- Databases & Tools: SQL Server, MySQL, MariaDB, Oracle, Git, GitHub, Crystal Reports, Active Reports.
- Soft skills: Software architecture and application migrations, functional and technical analysis, code/team leadership, and structured problem solving.

My continuous improvement mindset, combined with solid flexibility and adaptability to diverse project environments, enables me to effectively guide the entire software lifecycle, from requirements analysis to production release.

I am available for relocation across Italy and remain at your disposal for an interview to further discuss my professional background.

Sincerely,

Luca Chiarenza
